ROOSEVELT IN CENTER OF STAGE

Makes Speech to the Progressive National Convention

IS CHEERED FOR AN HOUR

Most Striking Part Is Where He Says Tool Users Become Tool Owners

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 6.—The second day's session of the convention was given over almost entirely to Roosevelt, who in addition to delivering the long awaited "confession of faith," answered with some length and a good deal of earnestness a question as to his attitude on the negro question. The delegates cheered the colonel more than an hour when he appeared suddenly on the platform at the Coliseum. While awaiting his appearance most of the delegates joined in an impromptu song to the effect that they would follow wherever Roosevelt should lead. This was the spirit of the reception accorded the former president, and the spirit with which his advanced ideas of progressiveness were received.

The session had other thrills. A photographic flashlight explosion fired the decorations above the crowded balcony. Temporary Chairman Beveridge and Colonel Roosevelt called on everybody to remain quiet and the band played, while two firemen climbed the big steel girders and extinguished the blaze.

Two doors of the convention hall had been thrown open to the public after Roosevelt reached the Coliseum. Some one in the galleries insisted on knowing the colonel's position on the liquor traffic.

As the delegates yelled "Shut up," and "Put him out," Colonel Roosevelt waved his hand toward the man and said: "Oh, go to a primary school or something." There were cheers and cries of "You're all right." When the colonel concluded the convention adopted the report of the committee on credentials, also the rule requiring all resolutions submitted from the floor to be sent to the resolution committee without debate. The permanent organization was postponed until tomorrow when the platform will be adopted and a president and vice president nominated.

Theo. Roosevelt, of New York, was nominated by the Bull Moosers for president of the United States, and Hyrum Johnson, of California, for vice president.

ROUGH HANDLING

Fined for Beating Up Three Mexicans Sunday Night

For some cause a bunch of Safford boys made up their minds to whip a few of the Mexicans with the Mexican circus on Sunday night.

Some citizen's report that the ill feeling began Saturday night when the circus tent was cut and torn, but as no officer was present no arrests were made.

Sunday night a rough house was started in Downen's pool hall, but Mr. Downen fired them out, and the war scene was transferred to the circus tent, where Francisco Ruiz and Valezar Alverez were beaten. No officer being present the circus people sent for Deputy Sheriff Johnson, who came and as long as he was there nothing happened.

After the circus let out Leon Delsi started home with his wife and mother. When in the deep shadows in front of John J. Birdno's residence he was suddenly attacked and severely beaten. The screams of the women soon brought a crowd, and three men were seen to run into the park, but as no officer was there they were not apprehended.

Next morning warrants were issued for Bob Brown, Harry Kirtland and Homer Nally. Kirtland and Nally plead guilty to fighting and were fined $5.00 each. Brown plead not guilty, was convicted and fined $25.00. He took an appeal. A number of other boys were in on the general management of the affair but as they did not participate in the fighting they were not arrested.

It is reported that the friends of Delsi intend presenting the attack made on him to the grand jury, charging a felony.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wanslee left for Camp Inception, Wednesday.

ARE NOW TENTING

Mexico Refugees in El Paso are Being Cared for by the U. S.

A Mormon tent city has been established on the Texas and Pacific reservation in East El Paso. The tents from the army depot at St. Louis began arriving Friday night and 80 of the "A" tents were set up by the soldiers of the Second cavalry Saturday morning for the use of the refugees, who have been housed in the abandoned lumber sheds on Magoffin avenue. Bath rooms, toilets, kitchen tents and sanitary sinks have also been established by the soldiers under the direction of cavalry officers and, according to the most modern, sanitary regulations of the United States army. More of these tents will be set up at the tent city as rapidly as they are needed and it is probable that the greater number of the women and children at the refugee camp on Magoffin avenue who are not sent to Arizona or Utah will be removed to the tents.

Another 100 tents have been shipped to Hachita, N. M., by the United States army for the use of the colonists from Colonia Diaz, who are in a refugee camp near Hermanes. The full 500 tents ordered sent to El Paso will be available for the use of the Mormons if they are needed.

LOOTING BY REBELS

Passengers on the North Western train from the south brought messages to the Mormons that their houses and stores were being looted by the rebels who are back in that district after the battle of Ojitos. The Union Mercantile company, of which E. E. Bowman is manager, was looted of two carloads of dry goods Friday, according to the advice which Mr. Bowman has received from Colonia Dublan. Two frieght cars were backed into the station at Colonia Dublan and the cars loaded with goods from the mercantile company's big store there. The cars were then run up the track to Casas Grandes and Pearson where "the common people" were permitted to help themselves after the soldiers had taken all they wished from the cars. The rebels were also reported to be lasoing hogs and cattle on the ranches in the colonies and killing them for food. The houses were being entered at will and anything the rebels wished was being taken, the Mormon officers were informed, although no destruction of property had been reported. The men who came up on the train told the Mormons in El Paso that the rebels were offering their arms for sale and that any amount of rifles could be obtained for a small price from the men who are ready to desert and quit.

RATIONS FOR REFUGEES

Rations continue to be issued to the Mormons by the subsistance department of the army at Fort Bliss. It is not known how much longer this will be kept up, as the officers at the post say that they have but $1000 left of the $3000 appropriation ordered by the war department to be expended in feeding the refugees. It is thought that the entire $20,000 will be available for buying food for the Mormons here and at Hermanas, N. M., before the present food is exhausted. The rations for the New Mexico refugees are being bought here and shipped to them at Hermanas. The Huntington Sales company has donated the use of a number of stoves and ranges for the Mormons who are encamped on Magoffin avenue and it is probable that these will be set up at the tent city for the use of those who are transferred there. There were 200 of the refugees sent to Arizona Friday night and another 200 are expected to go tonight.

FOR A MEXICO PROBE

The senate resolution directing a commission of three to be appointed by the war department, to conduct an investigation into the claims of Americans against Mexico and to report their findings to congress, which passed the senate some days ago, and was called up in the house and Representative Smith, of Texas, was agreed to by the house and adopted.

FIRED ACROSS THE LINE

Mexican rebel soldiers fired at the United States soldiers on patrol duty below the El Paso foundry Friday night. The bullets from the Mexican rifles struck the home of C. H. Cole in East El Paso; also the El Paso foundry.

The firing was directed at the American soldiers patroling the line, who returned the fire. The Mexicans fired about 25 shots.

JOINING FEDERALS

About 100 Mormons left Colonia Dublan Saturday morning, fully armed, ostensibly to round up their stock, but feared by rebels to have gone westward to meet and join the federal forces said to be advancing toward this station.

HOMES ARE LOOTED

The refugees in El Paso have been informed that the Red Flaggers have looted their homes of everything of any value and have also slaughtered and driven off large numbers of live stock.

THIRD ANNUAL GRAHAM COUNTY FAIR, OCT. 16, 17, 18, 19

The Third Annual Graham County Fair to be held in Safford October 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th, will excell last year's fair in every feature.

The commission expects to award about $2000 in prizes. The fair will be under the personal supervision of the fair commission, and the whole will be under the general supervision of the board of supervisors.

TEMPORARILY INSANE

Safford Hotel Man Atempts Violence and Suicide

Officers were summoned to the Olive Hotel yesterday afternoon to arrest C. W. Morris who, with his wife had a lease on the hotel. The hotel had been sold and the Morris lease was out. In the settlement between Mrs. Freeman, the owner, and Mrs. Morris, Mr. Morris was dissatisfied and after Mrs. Freeman had gone home, Morris followed her with a rifle; brought her back to the hotel and compelled her to give a check to his wife, over the protest of both, then threatened his wife with the gun and told her that if she did not care for the children, he would kill her and himself. Then he pointed the rifle towards his head and shot, but missed.

In the meantime officers had arrived and W. T. Johnson followed Morris into his room. Morris attempted to get something from a dresser drawer which proved to be razors, and Johnson hit him on the head with a gun.

Even after that it took several men to get him out of the hotel and into jail.

SUPERVISORS IN SESSION

School Land Released and County Fair Started

The Board of Supervisors was in session on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and besides transacting the regular monthly business and paying the monthly bills all school land was released to the leasees in possession.

The treasurers report shows something like $30,000 in the treasury.

The school superintendent filed his estimate of the amount of money required to operate the schools for the present year.

A fair commission for the purpose of holding a county fair was appointed as follows: W. T. Webb, W. A. Gallespie, W. W. Pace, E. W. Clayton, R. J. Young.

It is expected that the fair will be held for four days, Oct. 16, 17, 18 and 19. The board appropriated $350 to assist in giving the fair. It is understood that the business men of Safford will give a like amount.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Last Thursday as Will Blair, accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Curtis were on their way to Safford from their homes in Eden, they met with a serious accident in Pima.

When near the depot the team ran away, the wagon pole fell down, was broken off and all three occupants thrown out.

Mrs. Blair was badly bruised and cut about the head and face; Mrs. Curtis sustained a broken wrist and Mr. Blair was severely bruised on the body and legs.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Safford and Layton Are Now One School District

At the elections held in Safford and Layton school districts last Saturday, it was decided to consolidate the two districts into one. The returns to Supt. Woods showed that both districts had voted in favor of it, and he has declared the consolidation complete and has ordered an election for August 19th to elect a board of trustees.

Very little interest seemed to be taken in the election, although it was one of vital importance to every resident of both districts, about one-half of the Safford vote being cast, and only fifteen in Layton. Safford carried by two majority. All fifteen in Layton favored it.

Now that consolidation has become a fact, a central school is a necessity. The best way that we know of to accomplish this is to levy a special tax to liquidated the present bonded indebtedness, then bond the new district and erect the necessary buildings. Some objection might be raised to this, but all the property in the new district is now subject to the bonded indebtedness of Safford, and it is plain that more school room must be provided.

CAMERON TO RUN

Against Hayden, Who Will Skin Him Like an Eel

Ralph Cameron, one of the candidates of the republican party at the last state election for United States senator, will be the standard bearer of the g. o. p. in the race against Carl Hayden for Congress.

This is at least, what prominent local republian leaders say and they should know. At least this is the report that is heard in the Hotel Adams, and are not all republican plots and schemes hatched under the roof of that place?

Cameron, not satisfied with his defeat at the recent election, will try again. Realizing that he is not proper senatorial timber, the wise man from the Grand Canyon will take a shot at a job one step lower down, that of a mere Congressman. It is safe to say that when Carl Hayden gets through with him he will be willing to run for constable of his precint.

Mr. Cameron has not been heard from as to the congressional race, but the local bosses say he will be the man offered for sacrifice, and no one ever remembers of Cameron refusing anything that was offered him.

It seems certain that Cameron will be the republican nominee and it is equally certain that Hayden will be the standard bearer of the democratic party. R. S. Fisher of Phoenix has been slated as the nominee of the Bull Moosers if the party of Theodore decides to put a man in the field.—Arizona Democrat.

A GRAND SUCCESS

Great Crowds at J. R. Welker's Quitting Business Sale

Eager shoppers still continue to crowd the J. R. Welker & Co.'s store and are taking advantage of the greatest bargains this community has ever known. New merchandise is being put out daily and grabbed up just as fast as the small army of clerks can make their checks. It proves that the people of the Gila valley have come to the conclusion that this sale is really the greatest opportunity that they have ever had put before them, and they are certainly taking advantage of it.

Master Elliott Carpenter entertained a number of his friends last Tuesday, in honor of his fourth anniversary.

MASS MEETINGS FOR THE REFUGEES

Several of Them Were Held in Different Towns Last Sunday Night

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Calling Upon Our Government to Protect American Citizens in Mexico

Several hundred refugees from Mexico arrived in the valley last week and are now being cared for by the people here. They are all destitute as everything they own, except what little they could carry, was left in Mexico.

The treatment these people had received caused a feeling of indigation to sweep over the community and mass meetings were called for the purpose of seeking means of relief.

The meeting in Safford was held in the park and was presided over by Mayor Prina. A number of speeches were made, and all were of the opinion that the United States should be called upon to give proper protection to Americans in Mexico.

At the conclusion of the meeting the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

RESOLUTIGNS

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

SAFFORD, ARIZONA,
Aug. 4, 1912,

To: HON. MARK A. SMITH,
HON. HENRY F. ASHURST,
HON. CARL HAYDEN,
Washington, D. C.

As nearly 3,000 Americans have been forced to leave their homes in Chihuahua and Sonora, on account of the violent acts of the revolutionists, within the past ten days, and are now being taken care of in different parts of the United States, and as the homes and property of these people are at the mercy of the different bands of revolutionists over running that part of the country, with no means of protection, and not daring to return under threats of violence, and as several hundred of the refugees are here in the Gila Valley now seeking assistence, and protection from the flagrant outlawry that has been heaped upon them, we the citizens of Graham County, in mass meeting assembled at Safford ask that you use your utmost efforts in an endeavor to induce the Federal Government to protect the American citizens now residing in the Republic of Mexico, and also the homes and property of these who have been forced to come to the United States for the preservation of their lives.

Viewing the situation from close quarters we deem the situation very grave, while we do not advocate United States intervention at this time, we do believe that the Government is fully warranted in demanding that the Mexican Government give proper protection to United States citizens and property belonging to them, then in case this demand is not complied with, to compel its recognition.

The refugees from depredations cannot remain long in the United States for the reason that everything they own is in the Republic of Mexico and they must be cared for by their friends or sympathetic citizens, until they can return to their homes in Mexico, and we are firmly convinced that the sooner the United States government gives the government of Mexico to understand that it must protect Americans, or that we will do it for them, the better it will be, not only for the unfortunates who have just left Mexico, but also for the human race in general.

THE TIME HAS COME TO ACT

The same sentiment with respect to the outrages heaped upon Americans in Mexico, as expressed in the resolutions adopted by the mass meeting held in Safford last Sunday night, seems to be rapidly spreading over the country. Regarding the situation the Arizona Rrepublican says:

"There is a general and increasing belief that this country should undertake vigorously to protect American citizens in Mexico. It does not matter whether it is done by a formal intervention or by the simple process of sending into Mexico a sufficient force of American troops to protect American property and lives at such points as the Mormon colonists, where there were large groups of persons and property.

"It is not to be expected that every American and every American interest could be given immediate protection. A dispatch from Washington on Thursday night stated, "Everything short of intervention has been done." It may be pertinently asked, "What has been actually accomplished? What has been the result of the doing? What American life has been saved or what American interest has been conserved by any action that our government has taken? Four thousand peaceable American citizens within a week have suffered confiscation of their personal property and have been driven under threat of death, out of the country, from their homes and the enterprises they had built up.

"The American government has a far more tangible reason for intervening in Mexico than it had in Cuba. This is not a matter of a mere annoying disturbance along our border. It is a matter of the protection of American lives. Our intervention need not be for the restoration of order in Mexico but for the purpose of impressing upon the combatants that the rights of American citizens, legally acquired must be respected even in time of war.

"The federal government of Mexico could not reasonably resent such action by the United States since it is without the means of giving that protection to the Mormon colonists guaranteed to them when they settled at Dublan, Morelos and Juarez many years ago.

"It is not enough to say to them that they will sometime be indemnified for their losses of property or life. It is better for Mexico as well as for the settlers that there be no loss of American life or property.

"Our government exercised great forbearance throughout the Madero revolution and throughout the present disorder it has manifested a forbearance which is less praiseworthy and which we fear is being regarded as no longer excusable."

GOT THE MONEY

United States Senator Marcus Aurelius Smith of Arizona looks out for the interests of his constituents, even if he is a democrat and was over-zealous in his Marathon debate with the colored brother in the hotel elevator. The House appropriation for surveys was $700,000, and Mark and Senator Fall of New Mexico coaxed the Senate into making it $850,000, mostly for the benefit of the two new states.—Los Angeles Times.

The Los Angeles Examiner says that between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 is a safe estimate of the total expenditure in Los Angeles during the year ended June 30th by visitors from elsewhere. This estimate does not include expenditures by those who came, during the year, to make Los Angeles their permanent home. The minimum of $15,000,000 may be quoted by the most conservative and truth-loving of our citizens without endangering his accuracy. The general correctness of the estimate is supported by the hotel, apartment and rooming house records. Arizona contributes a good portion of the above sum—just how much it might be difficult to estimate.

ONLY ONE

The Democrat is more than pleased to give place to the statement of Dr. Shine, of Bisbee, in reference to the Baltimore convention. We are especially pleased to learn that Judge Little, of Globe, for whom we entertain a high regard, stood steadfast and true to Champ Clark to the end. Dr. Shine also discharged his every obligation to his constituents. It seems from a scrutiny of the records of the Baltimore convention that only one man from Arizona betrayed his trust and violated his instructions.—Democrat.

President Taft Says Government Will Not Intervene

When President Taft was officially notified that he had been renominated for president, in his reply to the speech of notification Mr. Taft said regarding Mexico:

"Our Mexican neighbor on the south has been disturbed by two revolutions and these have necessarily brought a strain upon our relations because of the losses sustained by American citizens, both in property and in life, due to the lawlessness which could not be prevented under conditions of civil war.

"The pressure for intervention at times has been great, and grounds upon which, it is said, we might have intervened have been urged upon us, but this administration has been conscious that one hostile step in intervention and the passing of the border by one regiment of troops would mean war with Mexico, the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars, the loss of thousands of lives in the tranquilization of that country, with all the subsequent problems that would arise as to its disposition after we found ourselves in complete armed possession.

THE TAFT IDEA

"In order to avoid the plain consequences, it seemed the course of partriotism and of wisdom to subject ourselves and our citizens to some degree of suffering and inconvenience and to pass over with only a protest and a claim for damages even those injuries inflicted on our peaceful citizens in our own territory along the border by flying bullets in engagements between the government and the revolutionary forces on the Mexican side.

It is easy to arouse popular indignation over an instance of this character. It is easy to take advantage of it for the purpose of justifying aggressive action, and it is easy to cultivate political support and popularity by a warlike truculent policy, but with the familiarity that we have had in the carrying on of such a war in the Philippines and in Cuba, no one with a sense of responsibility to the American people would involve them in the almost unending burden and thankless task of enforcing peace upon these 15,000,000 of people fighting among themselves, when they would necessarily all turn against us at the first manifestation of our purpose to intervene. I am very sure that the course of self restraint that the administration has pursued in respect to Mexico will vindicate itself in the pages of history.

HOPES MADERO IS WINNING

"I am hopefull that the present government is now rapidly subduing the insurrection and that we may look for tranquility near at hand. The demonstration of force which I felt compelled to make in the early part of the disturbance by the mobilization of some 15,000 or 20,000 troops in Texas, and holding maneuvers there had a good and direct effect and, as our ambassador and consul report, secured much increased respect for American and foreign property in the disturbances that followed. Similar questions have arisen in Cuba, but we have been able to avoid intervention, and to aid and encourage that young republic by suggestion and advice."

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails to perform its functions properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion. Try it. WEIGHTS-MEASURES

Referendum Period Expires August Eighteen, When It Will Bcome Law

The provisions of the Hughes weights and measures bill as passed by the special session of the first legislature of Arizona will go into effect on August 18, and State Inspector O. N. Cresswell has been in Phoenix for the past month making all the necessary arrangements for putting the law into effect.

There are a number of interesting provisions in the bill that are both of concern to the purchaser and the dealer. The bill was passed at the first regular session but because it failed to contain the provision placing the inspection of the gas, water and electric light meters under the supervision of the state inspector and local sealers of weights and measures, Governor Hunt vetoed the bill transmitted to the senate and house his reasons therefore. Senator John T. Hughes, who had the bill in charge in the regular session, immediately thereupon provided another measure containing the provisions called for by Governor Hunt, and it was soon passed by both houses and signed by his excellency.

Under the provisions of the bill the state standard for weights and measures are made to be the same as those kept in the national bureau of standard at Washington. It is also provided that whenever changes are made in the standard at Washington the same shall be supplied by the state as the standards in conformity therewith. The law deals with every possible commodity that is sold by weight or measure. Foodstuffs especially are dealt with in a manner calculated to protect the purchaser.

In connection with the sale of bread no person is allowed to keep or offer for sale any bread in loaves without having a stamp thereon containing the correct weight at the time the bread is marked and wrapped; but an allowance of 5 per cent in weight is made for srinkage on all loaves of bread over one day old, ten per cent for two days' old bread, and bread over three days old must be sold as stale bread. All the bread other than that strictly new, and which does not come within the stale bread provision must be stamped with the age of the loaf thereon, as well as the net weight of the loaf when it was first wrapped and marked.

In the sale of coal it is provided that coal must be sold by weight and a slip must accompany the delivery of the coal so bought. On this slip there must appear the gross weight of the load or fraction of the load, the tare weight of the vehicle in which the coal is delivered, and the tare weight of the container if the coal be boxed or sacked and the net weight of the purchase. The slip accompanying the load must have written or printed plainly upon it the name of the dealer and the purchaser, and shall be a duplicate of the slip kept by the dealer of the coal. Either of these slips must be surrendered to the state inspector of weights and measures upon his demand.

The sale of water, milk and cream must be made only in bottles in which the name of the dealer shall be clearly blown or permanently marked. The bottles must also be marked with the capacity. Individual sales of water, milk and cream may be made in bottles of the following capacity: Half-gallon, three pints, one quart, one pint, one-half pint and one gill, and they must be filled to the bottom of the lip.

Wood must be sold by the cord, whether it be sawed, cut or split, and must be accompanied by the same sort of ticket that accompanies the coal sale referred to above. Ice must be sold by weight both wholesale and retail. Hay must also be sold by weight and a ticket similar to that provided in the coal and wood sales accompany the hay sale. However, when hay is sold in bales it must have stamped upon the bale the correct weight of the bale. There is an allowance, however, made in the weight of hay according to age. Three per cent shrinkage is allowed for hay six months old and five per cent for over six months. By this it can be seen that hay sold in Arizona must carry with it a certificate as to its age, just the same as a loaf of bread.

Fresh meat must be sold by weight and must have a delivery ticket accompanying the delivery of the sale. The sale of fish comes also under these provisions. Butter must be sold by weight and when sold in packages or cartons the package must have printed upon it the pounds and ounces or fractions thereof in avoirdupois weight. A srinkage of 2 and 2½ per cent is allowed on all such packages and cartons. Coffee and tea when sold in cans or packages must also have the net weight of the tea printed upon the package.

Where any commodity such as flour, rice, beans, barley, bran, corn, potatoes, onions, seed, ham or bacon is sold in bags or containers of any kind each bag or container must have the net weight of the commodity stamped or printed or plainly marked upon the package. The provisions for the sale of lard are equally strict. The net weight of lard sold in the can or container must be plainly marked thereon.

In the sale of vinegar or sweet oil the bottle or can must be plainly marked, giving the amount offered for sale.

The sale of soda crackers or dried fruit, when sold in boxes or other containers, must have the net weight of the article plainly marked on the package.

The penalties provided in the bill for any violation thereof are from $5.00 to $250.

KINNEY BILL GONE

People Will Not Be Premitted to Vote on Measure at Coming Election

According to the Arizona Republican the Kinney bill has gone by the board. It will not be submitted to voters next November, though the woman suffrage amendment will be submitted. This statement has not yet been officially made, but it is nevertheless the fact.

The Kinney bill fails because of the failure to secure the petition from Swansea for filing within the required time. Without the Swansea petition the bill lacked thirty signatures. There were fifty-five signatures attached to the Swansea document, but that was lost and has not, so far as known, been found Anyway it has not been presented at the office of the secretary of state.

It was thought by the friends of the bill that the trouble might be overcome by the presentation of affidavits, showing that the petitions contained the forty-five signatures, and that they had been affixed within the require l time. The attorney general's office has decided, however, that that may not be done.

A Clear Case.

It was a murky day, and the old sea captains were talking of a schooner which had been struck by lightning a few days before and adding their contributions to nautical fiction, thinly disguised as fact. "How about the Emma S., Captain Ell?" asked the privileged listener at last. "Wasn't she struck once?"

"She was sir," and Captain Ell fixed his gaze on a crack in the ceiling of the old wharf office. "She was off the cape—home'ard bound, she was."

"I'd like to hear the particulars," said the young man, and all the captains moved in their seats and fixed their eyes on the crack which held the gaze of Captain Ell.

"'Tisn't much to tell, only what might happen to any vessel under similar circumstances," said Captain Ell. "A bolt struck the deck amidships and bore a hole right down through the bottom of the schooner big as a man's leg. The water come rushing in, and of course the Emma S. would have foundered if a second bolt hadn't come and struck my forto'galla'mast, cut it off near the top, turned it end for end and drove it right into the hole, plugging it up and making it water tight.

"'Twas a clear case of what folks call the ravages and repairs of nature," said Captain Ell as he removed his gaze from the crack and let it rest thoughtfully on the ingenuous face of the only landsman in the company.—Youth's Companion.

Sensitive Souls.

In one of the schools on the outskirts of a city, where a large percentage of the pupils are of Italian parentage, the teachers were startled one day by the descent of a delegation of infuriated mothers, all gesticulating wildly and pouring forth floods of excited Italian One of the older pupils, having been sent for to act as interpreter, reported that their cause of complaint was that their children had been ridiculed and made fun of by teachers and pupils

"In what possible way?" demanded the astounded teacher.

"Why, by a song that you are teaching the children, where you call them 'dagoes'."

Not until the teachers realized that the song was "My Old Kentucky Home" and that the offending words were "The day goes by like a shadow on the heart" was the whole affair made clear, and the mothers, assured that no offense was intended, departed in peace.—Exchange.

NEWS FROM MEXICO

EDITOR GUARDIAN:—Inasmuch as there has been so many wild and misleading reports gone out, I desire to say that we who live in the colonies of Sonora have never had very much cause for alarm at any time during the revolution, except for a little while when we thought intervention was coming. As far as the treatment of either federals or rebels is concerned, we have had but little cause to complain. They have never made any demands on us, or taken anything except a few saddle horses, and they had Mexican brands on them.

An article in the Deseret News dated July 11th, stated the rebels and Mormons expected to fight the next day. Such a report is false and without even a shadow of a foundation. People who make such statements should be handled by law, as it is an injustice to all concerned.

All of the reports are from Oaxaca or Morelas. San Jose is always left out for which we are very glad. However, we are situated about nine miles from Colonia Morelas and in a much more scattered and helpless condition, yet no one has ever molested us. If they were in danger of being molested, we also would share the same fate.

Everyone is in good spirits after a bountiful harvest and plenty of rain to soak the land full for the second crop.

The stork gets busy once in a while, and a short time ago he left a baby girl at the home of Leo Alldredge. It seems to be very welcome, it being the first to visit them.

SAVE THE APPLES

The Way Pointed Out to Save the Fruit

The daily band records show a steady increase in the number of worms in the apple and pear orchards. There are no longer any well defined broods. This alarming increase means that serious inroads will be made in your apple and pear crops unless you continue your spraying.

The worms that come from the apples now are spinning up, preparatory to becoming moths, they begin laying eggs in large numbers. These eggs hatch, in a few days and the baby worms chew their way into the fruit. Some of these little fellows are in the fruit now; others will enter today, and tomorrow, and each and every day throughout the remainder of the fruit season.

To prevent the destruction of the fruit, put a fresh coat of spray on now, or just as soon as you reasonable can. Each day is important. Then repeat it in three weeks. Use a fine misty spray, and be sure to spray both sides of each fruit where possible.

The band records show that in in those orchards where summer spraying was carried on last season there are not a fourth as many worms as in neglected orchards. You see this late spraying will help you in the fight next year, as well as helping you to save the remainder of the sound fruit this year.

PROMPT SETTLEMENT

W. V. Thorpe, agent of the Occidental Life Insurance Company, has just settled with Mrs. Loeta Ann Cole, beneficiary under Policy No. 2634 issued by The Occidental Life Insurance Company, to Thomas J. Cole of Thatcher, Arizona, for $1000.00.

It will be remembered that Thos. J. Cole was doing missionary work in the Southern States and was accidentally drowned July 4, 1912, while fishing with several companions.

Proofs of death were not submitted until after July 24th, and all matters of record were closed and claim paid in full Aug. 5, 1912.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company of Arizona and New Mexico is a home company and their prompt settlement shows they are treating their customers right.
